Why it works in a coffee shop

1

It lifts the average ticket

It is the natural companion to the coffee. It sells in the same conversation as the drink, with no selling effort.

2

The display case does not die on you

The shelf life covers a full week, so the case looks full on Monday and on Saturday without throwing product away.

3

No baking needed

No dough, no oven, no production waste and no extra person in the morning. It arrives ready.

4

It turns on impulse

Individual packaging works at the counter and to go, and it is the same product for both.
